Percy jackson and the olympians lightning thief summary pdf printable

Chiron protects everyone at the camp by sending Percy off on a special quest to save the world. Despite facing a trap placed by Hephaestus, Aphrodite's husband, the three successfully grab the shield and return it to Ares who tells Percy that his mother is still alive. After the bus breaks down, Percy and Grover notice three old women across the street knitting. Percy gives the Helm of Darkness, left behind by Ares, to a fury, asking that she return it to Hades and assure him that there is no need for war. The Furies appear and return the Helm of Darkness to Hades while Percy, Annabeth, and Grover head to Olympus to return the bolt to Zeus. During a game of Capture the Flag, Clarisse, the daughter of Ares, attacks Percy near the creek, but when he falls into the water, he manages to defeat her and his injuries are healed, thus indicating he is the son of Poseidon. In response, Percy acts out and is expelled from school. Dodds, when he reunites with his other classmates, no one remembers her. Percy chooses Grover and Annabeth to accompany him on his quest and together they head west to the entrance of the Underworld to confront Hades on the missing bolt. Ares offers guidance and assistance at a diner and tells Percy that his mother is alive. A monster chases after their car as they head in that direction, attacking Percy's mother, which causes her to disappear into a golden light. While on a sixth-grade field trip to a museum, Percy faces his strangest event yet. In order to continue enjoying our site, we ask that you confirm your identity as a human. Furthermore, this camp is for the children of the Greek gods who exist and are bound to Western Civilization. Percy wakes at Camp Half-Blood where Mr. Brunner reveals that he is actually a centaur named Chiron. Percy defeats Ares after stabbing him in the heel. Ares gives the trio a backpack of supplies and safe transportation to Nevada. Annabeth, Percy, and Grover take a train to Denver but stop at an Arch during a layover where Percy encounters the monsters Echidna and Chimera. As Percy and Sally discuss Percy's father at the cabin, Grover, Percy's best friend who is revealed to be a satyr, arrives to warn them of approaching danger, so Sally urges the boys to her car so they can flee; however, on the drive, Sally's car flips, and as they walk through the woods, she is attacked by a Minotaur and disappears. After escaping into nearby woods, they come across a shop filled with many life-size statues. Before Percy leaves on his quest with Grover and Annabeth, Luke presents him with flying shoes from Hermes, suggesting they may be useful during his quest. Zeus accepts the peace offering, and Poseidon expresses pride in his son for completing the quest. Percy confronts Hades who accuses him of stealing his object of power, the Helm of Darkness. The trio land in the ocean, and on the beach, they are confronted by Ares who admits his role in the thefts before Percy defeats him in a fight. Dodds, draws Percy aside to punish him. Chiron explains that this is dangerous since Poseidon, Zeus and Hades took an oath to refrain from siring any more half-bloods because their powerful children affect the human world too much. An altercation with Clarisse allows Percy to discover his father is Poseidon, one of the "Big Three" gods. In the Underworld, the flying shoes which Grover wears tries to drag him into Tartarus, but Percy and Annabeth rescue him. Dodds, "The Lightning Thief: The Graphic Novel", written by Rick Riordan and illustrated by John Rocco is the comic book adaptation of the first book in the "Percy Jackson & the Olympians" series. The three search for directions to the Underworld and encounter a monster named Crusty. Thank you very much for your cooperation. The trio are confronted by furies in New York City, and Percy is attacked by Echidna in St. Louis where he also receives three pearls from Nereid on Poseidon's behalf, to use if he is in danger. Objecting, Percy opens his pack from Ares as proof only to reveal the Master Bolt. Forceful winds and an unexpected visit from Grover lead Percy to reveal to his mother the incident that happened with Mrs. His favorite teacher, Mr. Brunner, rescues Percy by throwing him a ballpoint pen that changes into a sword. Although Percy defeats Mrs. Hades reveals Percy's mother to him in a golden light and says she will be returned once his helm is retrieved. Before returning home, Percy has a brief conversation with Poseidon about his mother who is safely back home. Since his godly parent is unknown, Percy is assigned the cabin dedicated to Hermes. This fantasy novel follows the journey of twelve-year-old Percy Jackson as he learns that he is the son of Poseidon, the Greek God of the Sea, and is sent on a quest to retrieve Zeus's Master Bolt in order to prevent war between Zeus, Poseidon and Hades which could destroy all of Western Civilization. During a school field trip to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Percy is attacked by his math teacher, Mrs. They realize they have been manipulated by Ares and Percy confronts him about stealing the bolt and the helm. Finally, at the house, Hades accuses Percy of stealing his Helm of Darkness as well as the master bolt that surprisingly appears in the backpack Percy received from Ares. Percy denies the allegations but after Hades threatens to kill his mother and unleash the dead back into the world, he agrees to find and return the helm. Percy, Grover, and Annabeth escape the Underworld and arrive in Santa Monica with the help of the magical pearls. Percy informs them of his quest and shares his concerns about the mysterious pit, but Zeus dismisses the conversation. The two engage in battle. Diagnosed with dyslexia and ADHD, while being raised primarily by his mother, his life so far has not always been easy. He jumps off the Arch into the river to avoid dying and is met by a spirit who tells him to go to Santa Monica before going to the Underworld. In Denver, Percy, Annabeth, and Grover meet Ares, the god of war, who requests their help in retrieving his shield in exchange for information on Percy's mother. Percy is placed in Cabin 11 where all those whose lineage is undetermined are placed, and here, he befriends Luke. Percy and his friends continue west but lose track of time in a magical casino in Las Vegas, which leaves them only one more day to find and return the master bolt. Percy learns that he has a decision to make regarding a package Poseidon has sent back to him. One of the women cuts a string, which Percy and Grover discuss as signifying death. At home, Percy escapes his dreadful stepfather, whom he calls Smelly Gabe, by joining his mother, Sally, on a trip to their favorite beach where she originally met his birth father. They meet Aunty Em, who Annabeth later identifies as Medusa. Percy defeats Medusa and sends her head to Olympus to show that he's not a pawn in the gods' game. Enraged, Percy rips a horn from the beast before passing out. Sally insists that Percy must go to a special camp for his safety. Before the end of the summer, Percy learns that Luke was really the one responsible for stealing the master bolt and the Helm of Darkness in order to serve Kronos, a Titan and the father of Zeus. Percy has only ten days to retrieve the bolt, else war will be declared on the summer solstice. Hades reveals Sally, offering a trade, but Percy uses Poseidon's Pearls so that he and his friends can escape, promising he will return for his mother. "The Lightning Thief: The Graphic Novel" is an entertaining work of fiction that integrates Greek mythology into modern American society to show how a troubled boy finds his true identity and strength. After Percy finishes his story, Sally instructs Grover and Percy to get into the car where Percy notices Grover has hooves for feet and learns his friend is a satyr. Additionally, Zeus's Master Bolt, the symbol of his power, has been stolen, and Zeus suspects Percy of being the thief, thus Percy is sent on a quest to find the Master Bolt which Chiron believes was stolen by Hades. Percy is repeatedly kicked out of school due to unexplainable events that aren't really his fault. Percy overhears a conversation between Mr. Brunner and his friend Grover regarding Percy's impending future, so he seeks answers from Grover on the bus ride home. After an argument with a school bully, his math teacher, Mrs. Percy returns to camp where he, Annabeth and Grover are lauded as heroes. With the school year over, Percy goes home to see his mother, Sally, who announces they are taking a trip to the beach. Along the way, the three will face several monsters before making it to Hades' house. On one part of their journey, Percy and his friends fight the Furies, which causes the bus they are on to explode. After Chiron tells Percy justice will be restored when the time is right, Percy makes plans to confront Luke the following summer. Percy happily leaves Camp Half-Blood with his mother. Dodds suddenly transforms into a monster and attacks him. While there, he learns his mother used Medusa to turn Smelly Gabe into a statue as she no longer needs to put up with him to keep Percy safe. Rather than continue fighting, Ares accepts defeat but points out that Percy has made a new enemy. The Lightning Thief follows the story of young Percy Jackson, a troubled 12-year-old boy with a secret unknown even to himself. Enraged, and fearing his mother's death, Percy defeats the monster and obtains one of its horns as a souvenir. Percy arrives at Camp Half-Blood and meets Mr. D, the god of wine, and Chiron, a centaur, formerly known as Mr. Brunner, Percy's Latin teacher. This revelation is cut short when a hellhound attacks Percy from the Fields of Punishment. Because of his success, Grover is granted a license to search for Pan, the god of the satyrs, and Percy is ecstatic to find that Hades has restored Sally to the world since the Helm of Darkness has been returned. While on their way to Hades' house, Grover's flying shoes, on loan from Luke, pull him toward a pit Percy has dreamed uneasily about. At home, Percy shares the details of his quest with his mother and discovers that the package with Medusa's head has been returned to him. At camp, Percy meets Annabeth, the daughter of Athena; his cabin counselor Luke, the son of Hermes; and Clarisse, the daughter of Ares. He rewards Percy by sparing his life. Percy, Annabeth, and Grover arrive in Santa Monica where Percy receives three pearls from the same spirit who visited him in the river. Luckily, the shoes fall off before Grover reaches the pit. She sells the statue and uses some of the money to enroll Percy in a new private school for the fall. When Percy, Annabeth and Grover finally arrive at D.O.A. Recording Studios in Los Angeles, they convince Charon to escort them to the Underworld. Percy returns the bolt to Zeus on Mount Olympus and meets his father, Poseidon. Percy defeats this monster and finds the address to an entrance to the Underworld. In the Underworld, Percy barter with Charon, a security officer, to let them in and tries to distract Cerberus, a three-headed security Rottweiler, but Annabeth is able to successfully command him. Chiron believes Hades actually stole the bolt to start a war between the gods. He then returns to New York where he takes the elevator in the Empire State Building to the 600th floor where Olympus floats above the city. Mrs. Percy's Oracle reveals that Zeus has accused Poseidon of stealing his lightning bolt and requires Poseidon's son to return it before the summer solstice. Dodds, who turns into a fury from the Underworld, but when Percy questions another teacher about the event, Mr. Brunner insists that there is no Mrs. Chiron and Grover explain to Percy that he is a half-blood, or a demi-god, meaning that he is half mortal and half god. Before leaving for camp, he encourages his mother to use it on Smelly Gabe. Percy returns to Camp Half-Blood for the rest of the summer.
